

A Hundred. Mapping contemporary dance resources in Europe.

There is limited information for artists and producers and for organisations in search for partners for exchange and collaboration. EDN commissioned an action research project in order to explore how knowledge exchange across networks can contribute to a mapping process. A Hundred... is not an exhaustive study, but a preliminary data gathering exercise, an exploration of how this information might be distilled and disseminated. The research process has been documented in a separate document that you can access on the website of EDN - www.ednetwork.eu
